

No need to change city council lineup

Highland Park/ There are times when change is both needed or desirable, but change without need simply for the sake of change serves no real purpose. I believe this principle applies to the City of Highland Park council elections.

Councilmen Brenner, Mandel and Kirsch have served the city with outstanding dedication and skill. Each has demonstrated a commitment to the city that would be difficult to duplicate. Each has been readily available and responsive and they have contributed to the continued growth and vitality to a city that is recognized as a model for others and is the envy of many.

Any one of us will have had reason to disagree with one or more of our councilors in the past but unless these differences are fundamental to the well-being of our community, such disagreements are healthy. Why do we need a fresh voice that replicates what is already well-established?

Support Brenner, Mandel and Kirsch for city council.

Where change is appropriate is in the Moraine Township assessor's office, and no one is better than Pete Koukos.
